

ADVOCATE NEW LAW FOR ISSUING DRUG LICENSES

Virginia Pharmaceutical Association Will Ask Legislature to Make College Diploma Prerequisite.

ANNUAL CONVENTION CLASS

H. C. Littlejohn, of Leesburg, elected President, and Mountain Lake Selected as Next Meeting-Place. Delegates Enjoy River Trip.

Changes in the rule governing the issuance of pharmacy licenses will be advocated before the next General Assembly by the Virginia Pharmaceutical Association, which, at the closing session of its thirty-third annual convention yesterday, adopted a resolution calling upon the legislature to make a college diploma a prerequisite for each applicant. This stringent policy was outlined by the outgoing president in his annual address, and the association readily passed a resolution instructing its legislative committee to take up the matter of drafting a new law on the subject.

The association opened their annual meeting with a business session on the steamer Brandon, while on a pleasure trip down the James River. Beyond passing a few resolutions, and electing new officers and committees, the association accomplished little work, the larger part of the time being devoted to pleasure.

H. C. LITTLEJOHN IS ELECTED AS PRESIDENT

As was fully predicted for several days, H. C. Littlejohn, of Leesburg, was elected president of the association to succeed G. D. Owens of Wytheville, other officers were elected as follows:

John Jones, Richmond, first vice-president; T. Ramsey Taylor, Norfolk, second vice-president; E. L. Branson, Richmond, secretary; H. C. Elsey, Suffolk, treasurer; J. W. Barnett, Roanoke, local secretary; W. H. Lawson, South Boston, member executive committee three years; H. J. Brady, Roanoke, member entertainment committee three years.

The association named John E. Jackson, Tazewell; H. E. Orchard, Lynchburg; C. D. Fox, Roanoke; W. T. Reeves, South Boston, and C. D. Owens, Wytheville, as candidate for a place on the Virginia State Board of Pharmacy. These nominations are required by statute, and they among the five named by the association. Governor Stuart will appoint one.

In addition to the officers elected, the two important committees were named as follows:

Legislative committee—W. G. Williams, Charlotte Courthouse; T. A. Miller, Roanoke; W. H. Taylor, Norfolk; C. H. Goldthwaite, Culpeper; and G. T. Martin, Falls Church.

Trustees National Home, Elizabethtown; G. F. Rankin, Falls Church; T. R. Taylor, Norfolk; R. H. Woolfolk, Richmond.

DELEGATES HEAR ADDRESSES ON PARCEL POST

The convention began on Tuesday, and business session was held at the Jefferson Hotel Apartments. The delegates assembled at 10 o'clock yesterday, and heard an explanation of the parcel post regulations, particularly as it affected the shipment of drugs, by W. Ross Southward, assistant postmaster of Richmond. The meeting adjourned at 11 o'clock, and the visiting delegates and their families left the hotel and social cars for the old Dominion Line wharf, where they embarked on the steamer for the trip down the river.

In spite of the inclement weather, the large crowd thoroughly enjoyed the sail down the historic stream. The rain stopped before the steamer had made its course, several small showers, the weather remained nearly clear. To amuse the visitors, there was music by Kessinger's Municipal Band, and a negro quartet. Livened up the intervals between the selections. A delicious dinner was served at 2 o'clock, and refreshments were served before and after.

WASHINGTON, IN BRONZE, TO STAND WITH NELSON

British Choose Site in Trafalgar Square for Virginia's Gift.

GOVERNOR RECENTLY NOTIFIED

Location Is Opposite National Gallery, in One of Most Frequented Sections of London—Will Be Replica of Houston's Statue.

Houston's famous bronze statue of George Washington, in duplicate, is to be given a commanding position in Trafalgar Square, in the heart of London. The statue of the first president of the United States is to join the statuary company standing in the main artery of the world's metropolis in near proximity to the statues of Lord Nelson and the Duke of Wellington, the most cherished of the trio of British heroes.

Thus does the Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland give flattering assurance of the full measure of appreciation with which the gift of the Commonwealth of Virginia to the mother country has been received.

First choice was a position for the Washington statue in the same spot selected by the British Vice-Consul, A. P. Wilmer, in a personal note from Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, British Ambassador to the United States, at Washington. The vice-consul, acting upon the ambassador's request, made a formal call on Governor Stuart yesterday, advising the Governor of the Vantage place accorded Virginia's gift and inviting the Governor's approval.

Governor Stuart expressed himself as highly gratified, saying he felt sure that the people of Virginia and the General Assembly that presented the bronze offering would be keenly pleased with the most graceful compliment thus bestowed.

OPPOSITE MAIN ENTRANCE TO NATIONAL GALLERY

In his communication to Mr. Wilmer, Sir Cecil related that while he was in London recently he discussed the question of a suitable position for the Washington statue with Lionel Earle, Secretary of the Office of Works, and other officials. He was told that the site mentioned had been selected previously, it being contemplated before making Virginia's approval before making a definite announcement.

The spot chosen, the ambassador explained, is immediately opposite the main entrance to the National Gallery. There will stand facing the square, across the railings, which surround the building and sufficiently elevated on a base above them to afford an unobstructed view of the statue.

In selecting Trafalgar Square, he says, the authorities were guided by the consideration that it was not only a very beautiful site, and famous for the statue of Nelson, but is also one of the most frequented sections of the public places. The ambassador enclosed with his note to Mr. Wilmer a drawing showing the exact position the statue will occupy in relation to the National Gallery. He suggests that Mr. Wilmer make a formal call on Governor Stuart and inquire of the Governor if the arrangements will meet with the approval of the Commonwealth.

Sir Cecil also desires to know as early as possible when the statue is to be sent to England in order that arrangements for receiving it with fitting ceremony may be made.

Gov. Stuart has referred the matter to the commission which was delegated to the commission which was to inspect the school of pharmacy while in operation, and to make a written report of its findings to the college and the association. The committee will be named by the new president.
